

Dual-Pane Acrylic Windows

Plastoform's dual-pane insulated acrylic windows provide many benefits, including superior insulation, minimal wind intrusion, reduced condensation, and noise reduction. These tinted windows are designed to be strong yet flexible with a four-point locking system. They swing up and out and lock into place using aluminum tubing with an easy tension locking system to hold the window open, allowing air to circulate around the cabin.

Screen/Shade System

The Horrex Window Screen and Shade System is a high-quality blind and screen for windows. Built with mesh and blackout material, they are central locking and infinitely adjustable. Whether you want to completely block light from entering your camper or use a screen for protection against debris and bugs, you can easily do so.
